Abstract

This research study looks the impact of foreign aid on economic growth of Pakistan. There are two variables in my research. Financial aid is my independent variables and economic growth is my dependent variable. I used primary and secondary data. Positivisam paradigm is used in this research. Quantitative research approach applied in this research. My population is Pakistan and sample size is 1970-2014. For the collection of data used the world development indicator 2011 software for that variable gross domestic product, financial aid when the data were completed and returned, and the data was entered into Eview 7 for analysis. Several tests were run on the data, and significant findings were present. This research is significant for economist as well as for the individual's it provide plate form who conduct research in future. I found that foreign aid of the economic growth. The results and data are discussed in depth within this report. There are also several limitations as well as future research and ethical consideration at the end of this research study.

Key words: Financial Aid, Gross domestic product and Economic Growth

Acknowledgement

I would like to thank the following persons without whose guidance this dissertation could not have been completed.

First of all I would like to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude to my supervisor Muhammad Harris Mehmood for his guidance and insight throughout in making my dissertation and especially, his invaluable suggestions and comments that really guided my research and also helped me to structure my dissertation.

Secondly, I am also very indebted to my best friends, my father and mother for their continuous support. I owe a lot of their unconditional love and understanding. Well, their suggestions allowed me to think in many different ways. Most importantly, they continually helped me improve my confidence. There were certain times, when I used to say that I just did not think I could go on with my studies, but they always knew just what to say to get me back in the race. They really very special entities of my life.... What a journey! I will never stop admiring them.
